The Caregiving Challenges

THE CHALLENGES

We're turning into a nation of caregivers.

70%

Percentage of people turning 65 today that will require long-term care services¹

$108,405

Average cost for one year of skilled care in a private nursing home room²

Because of this, the cost of professional care is prohibitive to many.

FOR MANY, THE ONLY VIABLE OPTION IS TO RELY ON FAMILY OR FRIENDS TO PROVIDE ASSISTANCE.

The Caregiver Burden

Caring for elderly family members or friends comes naturally to many of us. It's the right thing to do. Yet, the burden impacts a large portion of the population, and typically falls upon certain family members.

One in four adults in the U.S. provides regular care or assistance for an elderly family member or friend.³

Upwards of 75% of all caregivers are female⁴

Caregiver Strains

When the duration of caregiving goes on for months, and months turn into years, the caregiver endures strains on several levels. Some of the strains go unnoticed, or ignored. The caregiver is simply doing what's best and what needs to be done.

Strains may include:

Time

69% of family/friend caregivers report having to rearrange their work schedule to provide needed care.⁵

Financial

On average, family caregivers are spending 26% of their income on caregiving activities.⁶

Emotional

The demands of family/friend caregiving can result in depression, anxiety and feelings of resentment.

Social

The cumulative effect of strains can result in the caregiver losing touch with friends and missing gatherings and events.

Physical

Prolonged caregiver stress can result in injury, compromised immune function and increased risk of early death.

Bridge® provides freedom to choose how and where you receive care and/or assistance.
